

1960 was the first official Europa CEPT issue and on that occasion 20 countries issued a total of 36 stamps, more than the double of 1959. For 11 countries it was their first Europa stamp issue (Denmark, Finland, Great-Britain, Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Liechtenstein, Norway, Portugal, Spain and Sweden). The common design was a Roman mail-coach wheel with 19 spokes designed by the Finnish artist Pentti Rahikainen. (20 countries, 36 stamps).

That year Liechtenstein issued their first Europa stamp (not with the common design). That issue, only 322.000 stamps, suffered of speculation and became very fast a must because of its rarity.

During the next decade, the number of countries changed year by year. Some countries stayed faithful, other issued Europa stamps from time to time. Some smaller European countries issued their first stamps during that period.

In 1969 the CEPT celebrate their 10 years anniversary, it was the occasion for many countries to take part again at the Europa stamp issue, that's why we had 26 countries participating that year and 2 new countries the Vatican City and Yugoslavia. (26 countries, 50 stamps). Yugoslavia was the first Communist country to take part. That year the common design was a temple made of the words Europa and CEPT. The design was made by the Italian artists Luigi Gasbarra and Giorgio Belli. The colonnade formed by the words EUROPA and CEPT symbolizes the strength and cohesion of a future United Europe.
